Heichal Baoranim Policy on Reduced Payment of Membership Dues

Heichal Baoranim, Temple in the Pines, is the Jewish congregation of Flagstaff, and is committed to meeting the wide range of religious needs of all who live in, visit or vacation in the area. Our synagogue provides a warm, welcoming center for Jewish life in Northern Arizona. It takes resources - spiritual, human and financial - for Heichal Baoranim to conduct regular services, underwrite a religious school and youth group, provide adult education, and support other activities.

Please note that half-price dues are available (when requested) for new members, and for families and individuals who are returning after three years away. Please note this on your pledge sheet if you desire this discount.

It is the expectation that all families and individuals who desire to be members of Heichal Baoranim will pay the full cost of membership. However, it is the policy of Heichal Baoranim that no family or individual will be denied membership because of an inability to pay. Please contact the Heichal Baoranim Treasurer if you need to request arrangements for membership at a reduced rate or no cost:

Jonathan Armus, Treasurer
(928) 779-9420
jarmus@jbacpa.com

If a family or individual cannot afford to pay for a membership, we would ask that individuals or families help Heichal Baoranim contain its expenditures by performing one or more of the following functions as a volunteer: Religious School Coordinator, Religious School Teacher, Student Teacher, Organizer of Passover Seder, Organizer of Hanukkah Party, Managing the setting up and taking down of chairs for services, Taking garbage and recycling out to the street, Newsletter and Web-page support.
